A wise man once wrote, “By seeing London, I have seen as much of life as the world can show.”

And boy, was he right.

As you will soon discover, London is a city of vast opportunity and wonder — a melting pot unmatched in the world in terms of culture, cuisine, architecture, and that inexplicable “city” vibe. As you walk along London’s streets, you’ll overhear around 300 different languages, be able to see buildings from every period since the Romans, and eat and drink at more than 12,000 restaurants, cafes and pubs.

The SU London staff has compiled this guide to our favorite eateries, pubs, museums and shops — with many establishments local to our home in the neighbourhood of Bloomsbury.

This guide is by no means comprehensive, but we hope it can serve as a primer to the brilliance of the city we call home.

Enjoy!
