  Experience the range and breadth of London theater, from well-known titles to lesser-known discoveries, from the tried and true to the comparatively untested, and from musical theater to Shakespeare.

- Jack the Ripper and His Legacy
  ETS 310/ENG 600/HST 400/600 (3 credits)
  undergraduate or graduate
  You will walk in the footsteps of Jack the Ripper, the notorious serial killer who terrorized the residents of London’s Whitechapel district in 1888. Through readings, site visits, and tours, you will explore the social, cultural, and economic contexts in which they occurred.

- British Masculinity on Screen: James Bond and Sherlock Holmes
  ETS 360/FIL 300/QSX/WGS 400 (3 credits)
  undergraduate Investigate what on-screen adaptations of Sherlock Holmes and James Bond have to say about the construction of British masculinity. Explore issues of gender and sexuality, class, race, ethnicity, and nationhood in the construction of hegemonic and “other” British masculinity on screen.

- Health Psychology: Mind, Body, Culture
  PSY 300 (3 credits)
  undergraduate
  Learn how culture influences human behavior and the conceptualization of psychopathology, and explore how your own culture may influence your views of health.

- Multicultural London
  SOC 412 (3 credits)
  undergraduate
  London is home to communities of people from more than 90 countries, and its residents speak more than 300 languages. You will concentrate on how issues of identity, ethnicity, and religion in London are negotiated and shaped in relation to other markers of identity such as class, language, nationality, and gender.

- Civic Writing
  WRT 301 (3 credits)
  undergraduate
  Join an international team of scholars and community writers to explore the power and impact of writing as a tool for social justice. You will work to establish an activist writing archive, collaborate with London-based writing groups, and produce your own publication for circulation in the United States and United Kingdom.
