Summer Programs 2019

Africa

GHANA
Survey of Current Issues in African Migration
Early June–Late July
IRP/ANT 400/600/PAI 600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
The International Organization for Migration (IOM) is the leading global agency in the field of migration. This fieldwork practicum provides access to IOM’s technical cooperation and capacity-building projects in Ghana and allows you to explore the complexities of implementing humanitarian and development programs. You may work in Accra or rural areas alongside professionals in the field.

KENYA
Experiencing Education in Rural and Urban Settings in Kenya
Mid-June–Early July
EDU 400/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Immerse yourself in the Kenyan educational system and experience rural and urban life and school settings. You will work with students and teachers in classrooms in a rural secondary school and an urban boarding secondary school. Beginning and ending in Nairobi, you will also visit Ugweri and Embu, stay overnight by a water hole and salt lick in the Aberdare National Park, and cross the equator near Mt. Kenya.

SOUTH AFRICA
South Africa Immersion: A Global Health Education Experience
Late May–Mid–June
HTW/NSD 400/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Travel to Grahamstown, South Africa, where you will participate with local community partners to implement and evaluate a mutually designed program. You’ll also have the opportunity to visit local NGOs and community clinics, attend lectures by SU and Rhodes University faculty and local community experts, and immerse in the history, education, health, and culture of South Africa. Prior to traveling you will take an online module to explore methods for working collaboratively with communities, and learn about participatory planning models, cultural competency and empowerment.

Asia

Three Cities Architecture Studio in Asia
June–July
ARC 407/408/608/609 and ARC 500 (9 credits) undergraduate or graduate
In this studio and seminar, you will live in three densely populated and vibrant Asian cities. Your own observations will be complemented by literature and lectures on data, policies, and codes. Then you’ll choose an urban issue such as food systems, housing, transportation, or hydrology, and build a narrative form of your focused research within the three cities.

CHINA
Internships in Shanghai
Mid-June–Early August
IPA 470/670 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Eight-week internships are available in a variety of fields: accounting, finance, marketing and business, communications, science and technology, journalism, and art and design, among others. Throughout the program, you are welcome to attend weekday activities and weekend excursions hosted by CET Academic Programs, Syracuse University’s partner in Shanghai.

SINGAPORE
Singapore Summer Internships
Late May–Late August
BUA 470/670 and BUA 490/690 (3 or 6 credits) undergraduate or graduate
This 12-week, paid internship program is open to students who have completed a minimum of three years of university coursework. It begins with a one-week orientation that includes guest lectures, tours of Singapore, visits to workplaces, and finalization of work visas. Your internship begins at the start of the second week and will continue for 12 weeks. Placements are available in a variety of areas, including but not limited to accounting, corporate finance, supply chain, human resources, marketing/communications, general management, legal, public affairs, engineering, and analytics. The program also includes field trips to Malaysia and Indonesia.

Europe

Olympic Odyssey
Mid-May–Early June
SPM 357/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Your odyssey begins in London, where you’ll examine the impact of the 2012 Summer Games. From there you’ll visit Paris, the birthplace of the modern Olympic movement, and Lausanne, home to the International Olympic Committee since 1945. You’ll end your trip in the ancient city of Athens, host of the first modern Olympics. Along the way, you’ll meet with Olympic development committees in order to understand international sports from a strategic sport management perspective.

Between Myth & Utopia: The Material and Immaterial Contours of the Yugoslavian Dream
Early June–Mid–July
ARC 300/500 (6 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Undertake a territorial investigation in the area currently defined as the Balkans. The traveling summer course will unpack the existing conditions while exploring the dominant ideologies that have created the region as we know it today. You will use digital mapping, data collection, and cartography to research the intersection of conflicting ideologies at specific moments in the region and to objectively illustrate the effects of ideology in the transformations of the built environment.

All offerings and dates are subject to change.
BELGIUM

Public Diplomacy
Internships in Brussels
June–July
COM 470/PRL 530/635/IRP 370/670/PAI 670 (3 or 6 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Gain an understanding of public diplomacy and persuasive journalism in an international context in the heart of the European Union. You will pursue a seven-week internship within intergovernmental institutions, international NGOs, journalism organizations, lobbying offices, or think tanks in Brussels.

ENGLAND

See London Summer Session (at right)

Summer Internships in London
Late May–Mid-July
IPA 470 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Summer internships are available in a variety of fields, including business, communications, education, and international relations. Students who decide to do an internship will stay in London for seven weeks and take an internship course in addition to interning at a placement four days a week for five weeks.

London Ex
Late May–Mid-July
LAW 910 (6 credits) graduate
You will spend the first week of the seven-week program attending lectures by authorities in English law. During this time, class will be supplemented by visits to one of the Inns of Court and a guided tour of legal London. Students then undertake six-week internships with barristers, solicitors, public agencies, or other legal organizations under the supervision of Syracuse University College of Law faculty.

London Summer Session
Mid-May–Mid-June 2019
(3-6 credits)

Customize your summer program in London by choosing from an array of courses. To take full advantage of the city, most of your courses will feature field trips.

International Advertising
ADV 523 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
This course looks at comparative case studies from the UK, the U.S., continental Europe, and many other global markets, including Asia, Africa, South America, Australia, and the Middle East. Explore what is meant by “global advertising” for companies managing global brands.

The Business of Tourism
BUA 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Analyze a business sector that is all around as you study abroad in London—from the many ways tourists’ needs are satisfied to the history and museums of famous cities and the imagined locations created by such works of fiction as Sherlock Holmes and Harry Potter.

Inside the London Theater
DRA/ETS 400 (3 credits) undergraduate
Experience the range and breadth of London theater, from well-known titles to lesser-known discoveries, from the tried and true to the comparatively untested, from musical theater to Shakespeare. You’ll learn how to see theater and to read and write about it.

British Masculinity on Screen: James Bond and Sherlock Holmes
FIL 300/QSX/WGS 400 (3 credits) undergraduate Investigate what on-screen adaptations of Sherlock Holmes and James Bond have to say about the construction of British masculinity.

Sustainable Diets: From Policy to Plate
NSD/FST 400/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Explore food systems in the United Kingdom from farm to fork, and examine critical philosophical, political, health, and sustainability issues pertinent to the practice of locavorism.

Islam and the West
PSC/HST/MES 368 or REL 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Islam has for centuries been Europe’s neighbor and cultural contestant with a history of conflict and coexistence. With the growing presence of Muslims in large numbers in Europe and the U.S., we will examine the meaning, challenges, and possibilities of not two separate entities but one—“Islam IN the West.”

Health Psychology: Mind, Body, Culture
PSY 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Learn how culture influences human behavior and the conceptualization of psychopathology, and explore how your own culture may influence your views of health.

Sociology of Sport
SOC 367 (3 credits) undergraduate
Using some site visits across London, the course broadly questions the important and often complex place sport holds in society today, challenging the notion that sport is a trivial or apolitical enterprise while revealing the ways in which sports “matter” in contemporary culture.

Global Citizens/Global Cities—Critical Research
WRT 205 (3 credits) undergraduate
Examine what it means to be a global citizen and to live or visit a global city. Using London as your object of study, you will research how the city markets its identity to tourists, businesses, sports enthusiasts, and students, and you will develop both print and multimodal arguments.

Fashion, Clothing, and Body Adornment
(3 credits) undergraduate
This course challenges you to question assumptions about people based on an examination of clothing choices and body adornment. You will also look at the political implications of body coverings and what these express—domination/rebellion, fashion/anti-fashion, group belonging/group exclusion. Using examples from multicultural Britain and comparative material, you will examine how culture impacts dress and bodily practice.
FRANCE

Engineering Research Projects in Strasbourg
Mid-May–Early July
ECS/MAE 490/690 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate

Students in all major areas of engineering have an opportunity to conduct research projects at the Institut National des Sciences Appliquées (INSA). No prior language knowledge is required, although a basic knowledge of French is desirable.

French for Diplomacy
Mid-May–Mid-June
FRE 300 (3 credits) undergraduate; prerequisite FRE 202

This course is intended for students with an advanced level of French language skills who wish to learn to communicate in a diplomatic context. You’ll acquire cultural awareness as well as knowledge of international governmental structures relevant to a career in diplomacy or foreign policy. This course can be combined with an internship.

Paris Noir: Literature, Art, and Contemporary Life in Diaspora
Mid-June–Mid-July
AAS/LIT/WGS 400/600/ETS 400 and AAS/FLI/WGS 490/690/ETS 490 (6 credits) undergraduate or graduate

Study the influence and dynamics of Black culture, literature, and experience in Paris, past and present. Like a jazz composition, the seminar is arranged to convey variations and diverse interpretations of the “Paris Noir” theme and features panel discussions, poetry readings, and visits to community theater workshops, working artists’ studios, nightclubs, concerts, African markets, and restaurants.

Summer Internships in Strasbourg
Mid-May–Early July
BUA/FRE/IPA/PSC 470/670
(3 credits) undergraduate or graduate

Work in a local business or communications agency, a bakery or animal shelter, or a refugee-rights organization or political party. Our on-site internship coordinator will work with you to find the internship that best suits your needs and qualifications. French language skills are required for most placements. This internship can be combined with any of the courses offered at the Strasbourg Center (see previous courses).

Religion, Law, and Human Rights in a Comparative Perspective
Mid-May–Mid-June
IRP/MEP/PSC 400.1/600.1 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate

Focusing on both European and non-European jurisdictions, this course (taught at the Syracuse Strasbourg Center) will introduce you to contemporary debates about the role of religion in public and political life and familiarize you with critical human and women’s rights issues. You will also discuss contemporary multicultural and pluri-legal challenges to universal human rights values and principles. This course can be combined with a summer internship in Strasbourg (see next course).

Venice Biennale Intensive
Mid-May–Early June
TRM 500 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate

The Venice Biennale Intensive is a 10-day immersion in the Venice Biennale, one of the most important visual art events in the world. Established in 1895, last year it attracted over 500,000 visitors. It is unrivaled in terms of providing students a living portrait of the global art world. Students in the intensive will be given the opportunity to meet and interact with artists and curators from around the world, both informally and through a series of lectures and presentations.

ITALY

See Florence Summer Session (page 5)

Italian Film Studies and Filmmaking in Bologna
Early June–Mid-July
FIL 400/600 and FIL 500 (6 credits) undergraduate or graduate

Attend the world’s most famous classic film festival, Cinema Ritrovato, while immersing yourself in all aspects of film. This program is based on a total filmmaker/film studies approach in which you’ll study Italian film history, visual strategy, preproduction planning, and production.

Literacy, Inclusion, and Diversity in Italy
Mid-May–Early June
SPE/RED 400/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate

Italy has a long history of leadership in inclusive education. At the same time, neoliberal reforms, international policy, and increased immigration are all influencing educational policy and practice. You’ll be immersed in the Italian education system through a combination of school visits and observations (as well as direct work with students on a shared literacy project). Beginning in a small village in the Marche region and ending in Rome, you will also visit Venice and Florence and take day trips to other points of interest.
Florence Summer Session

Late May–Early July 2019
(3–6 credits)

The Florence Summer Session allows you to customize your program according to your interests and desire for exploration. To enhance your learning experience, most courses feature field trips and excursions within Florence and to locations outside the city.

Italian Language
ITA 100 (Conversation, 1 credit), ITA 101 (4 Credits)

Florence Fashion Frames
APH 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Study fashion photography at Florence’s biggest international fashion event. You will learn studio lighting and shooting techniques, attend lectures by renowned fashion photographers, work with Florence fashion ateliers, and become fully immersed in Florence’s Fashion Week.

The Italian Mafia
HST/SOC 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Analyze the Mafia phenomenon through historical, social, and cultural perspectives. The course features field study in Sicily, including working on lands that have been confiscated from the Mafia.

Italian Renaissance Art
HOA 320 (3 credits) undergraduate
Study major Florentine and other Italian works of art through a mixture of lectures and on-site visits. Includes site visits in Florence and field studies in Rome and Siena.

Mediterranean Food and Culture: An Italian Experience
HST 300, NSD 452/652 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Experience one of the most renowned cuisines in the world, from food systems to dietary patterns and health risks.

The Global Workplace
CRS 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
English is the most common language used in international working environments, yet language understanding does not necessarily guarantee comprehension of the facets that are important for efficiency in the everyday work setting. How do we navigate the unspoken and often unnoticed complexities of communication in working settings? Observe and analyze how you cope and adjust in a new culture with the goal of developing a set of competencies to use in future working environments characterized by multicultural teams.

Summer Internships in Florence
IPA 470 (1-3 credits) undergraduate
Gain academic credit and professional experience by taking part in a summer internship. Enhance your Italian language skills by taking part in a summer internship in a field such as art history, museum studies, media and communications, business, marketing, public relations, political science, international relations, women’s and gender studies, or education. Dates may vary depending on exact placement.

Note: Students attending the SU Florence Summer Session have to enroll in a minimum of 3 credits.

Politics of Immigration
PSC 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
All over Europe, the migratory phenomenon has triggered new forms of identity conflict, which are shaping the political life of every country. In 2015, at least one million people sought refuge on European shores. The refugee crisis throws new light on European politics, highlighting the urgency of a series of deep-set problems—conceptions and practices of citizenship, identity, multiculturalism, and secularization. The course will focus on Europe but will also adopt a comparative perspective, taking into consideration the U.S. situation as well as other relevant examples.

Italy and the Italians: A Cross-Cultural Study
PSY/SOC 400 (3 credits) undergraduate
This course will expose you to the field of cross-cultural studies, with a focus on Italy and its inhabitants. It includes excursions and local guest lecturers.

Made in Italy and Business Excellence: Food, Fashion, and Design
SOM 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Examine the business world of “Made in Italy” using a mix of theory, case studies, guest lectures, and site visits. Focus on Italian enterprises of excellence, including the food, fashion, and design industries.
Madrid Summer Session

May 23-July 5, 2019

3-6 credits

Biology of Spain
BIO 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
This course will study the main coastal and marine ecosystems and the physiology, behavior, and ecology of marine and coastal organisms. It also examines the uses and misuses of natural resources, the protection measures implemented, and how interactions of the different civilizations have shaped and "humanized" the Mediterranean environment. The course includes travel to the southeastern Spain and the north of Morocco to compare management practices of Europe and the North of Africa.

Summer Internships in Madrid
BUA 470/670 or IPA/SPA 470 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Summer internships are available in a variety of fields, including business, communications, education, and international relations. All placements require a good working knowledge of Spanish. Internships cannot be combined with coursework.

Hemingway in Europe and Spain
ETS 320 (3 credits) undergraduate
From Ernest Hemingway’s initial visit in 1923 to a final one in 1959, the people, culture, and politics of Spain inspired him and formed the basis for several of his most important works. This course focuses on Hemingway’s encounter with Europe and Spain, as seen through many of his most famous texts: The First Forty-Nine Stories, A Moveable Feast, The Sun Also Rises, Death in the Afternoon, and For Whom the Bell Tolls.

Arts of Spain: Paintings, Architectures, Cities
HOA 209 (3 credits) undergraduate
This course covers Spanish art and architectural history from the Middle Ages up to the 20th century. It emphasizes the most important masters and works of each period, the cities where the masters lived, and the architectures they knew, offering an opportunity to understand the most important cities of Spain through their cultural history and artistic output. Many classes are conducted on-site.

Travel Writing and Multimedia in Madrid
MAG/TRF 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Develop the skills of a travel journalist by exploring the people, history, culture, geography, nature, politics, food, and sports of Madrid. Learn research and reporting techniques, journalism dos and don’ts, dialogue, and interviewing tips that allow you to create insightful articles and images. You will produce multimedia travel pieces, keep travel journals, share work in class, and post the finished work on the web.

Spain Past and Present
PSC/HST 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
Trace the historical roots of the most interesting current Spanish political and social issues and gain the knowledge necessary to understand Spain today. Through the analysis of its recent history and the present of the country, this class helps the student learning about Spain and Europe.

Abnormal Psychology
PSY 395 (3 credits) undergraduate
Explore the biological, cultural, and political issues in abnormal psychology as well as in psychological assessment and therapeutic treatment of abnormal behavior. Topics include stress and adjustment disorders, mood disorders and suicide, sexual variants, abuse and dysfunctions, and schizophrenia and delusional disorders.

Sociological Perspectives of Sport
SOC 300 (3 credits) undergraduate
From soccer to basketball, Spain is a major player in the world of sports, and Madrid boasts two of the best soccer teams in the world. In this course, you will learn about and compare Spanish and U.S. sport contexts. Each unit, students will use different sociological conceptual tools to analyze sport-related topics including social function, commercialization, social stratification (social class, gender, ethnicity), subcultures, rules, and ethical debates.

Sexuality in Spain
SOC/QSX/WGS 306/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Explore questions about sexuality, gender, and the body that are fundamental to identity and community, with a focus on the Spanish cultural context. The course will look in detail at homosexuality and gender identity in Spain through course readings, films, guest speakers, field trips, and observational research.

Spanish Grammar, Conversation, and Culture
SPA 200 (3 credits) undergraduate
General conversation course in Spanish. Students must have completed SPA 102 or two semesters of Spanish.

Spanish Society, Language and Culture
SPA 300 (3 credits) undergraduate (pre-req SPA 201)
This course examines the sociocultural aspects of the Spanish society in Spanish language. Students will learn to cope with their cross-cultural adaptation, by comparing and contrasting their own culture with the Spanish one from a different perspective by learning about daily life, traditions, and expectations of Spaniards.

Media, Film, and Pop Culture
SPA 400 (3 credits) undergraduate
Appreciate the changing dynamic of contemporary Spanish society through analysis of print and visual media, film, art exhibits, dance, and sporting events.

Writing Creative Nonfiction
WRT 422 (3 credits) undergraduate
Learn about the power of narrative, the voice of the writer, the role of research, and how our location can help us write creative nonfiction in Madrid and in the world. We will explore strategies for writing confidently and persuasively on a range of topics and across a range of forms.
SPAIN

See Madrid Summer Session (at left)

Beyond Practice: A Radical Approach to Rebuilding Spain
Late May–Late June
ARC 500 (6 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Discover the capacity for “creative destruction” that economic crisis in Spain has produced. Discover firsthand the recent work by SelgasCano, Andres Jaque, Amid Cero9, Ecosistema Urbano, Langarita & Navarro, Ensamble Studio, etc., as examples of the new attitudes that are reshaping architectural production in the country.

SWITZERLAND

Graduate Internships in Geneva
Late May–Mid–August
PAI 711 (6 credits) graduate
This program centers on internships with international organizations headquartered in Geneva. You will attend weekly evening seminars as well as lectures by representatives from a variety of public and nongovernmental organizations. The internship gives you an opportunity to see how international organizations work from the inside, and your academic work will enable you to process the experience.

The Middle East

ISRAEL

Middle East Policy and Security Studies
Mid-May–Late May
PSC 400 (3 credits) undergraduate
Learn firsthand how Israelis approach conflict and grapple with terrorism and other security issues. Class lectures will feature a wide range of topics, from media and the Middle East to dilemmas in counterterrorism decision-making and the Persian Gulf. In addition to classes and lectures, you’ll tour Tel Aviv, take day trips to northern Israel and Jerusalem, and take part in other field trips and activities designed to enhance your understanding of Israeli culture. Priority given to SU students.

LEBANON AND JORDAN

Global Perspectives, Local Contexts: Women and Gender in the Arab World
June
ENG/WGS/ MES/QSX 400/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
You will travel to the Middle East for two weeks to directly engage with issues pertaining to the study of gender and sexuality in the Arab world within the specific context of the interconnected sites of Lebanon and Jordan. The course covers a variety of historical, national, socio-cultural, literary, and theoretical perspectives on constructions of gender and sexuality in Arab societies. You will be equipped with tools to address some of the widespread assumptions and stereotypes that dominate Western discussions about the Arab world.

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES

Revolutions, War, and the Prospect for Democracy in the Middle East
Late May–Mid–June
PSC/IRP/MES 400/600 (3 credits) undergraduate or graduate
Located in Dubai, this program examines the problem of “democratic deficit” and investigates the role of regional/global actors in multiple recent crises in the Middle East.
Spend summer 2019 in Africa

GHANA
Survey of Current Issues in African Migration
IRP/ANT 400/600/PAI 600

KENYA
Experiencing Education in Rural and Urban Settings in Kenya
EDU 400/600

SOUTH AFRICA
South Africa Immersion: A Global Health Education Experience
HTW/NSD 400/600

New summer scholarships available!